

TEAM BUILDING EVENTS

Why Team Building?

Everything around us is changing very fast and the success relies on the capacity to manage the change and to transform it into opportunity. People and teams are the main players in this process.

Given time, teams form themselves naturally and the individual objectives are integrated into the team goal, as the people start to know each other and everyone finds the right place in the team.

Team Building simply accelerates the process of team formation, succeeding to create in a short period of time that "something" which makes the difference between a group and a team.

Objectives

Team Building events are highlighted by precise goals defined by the Employer, aiming to develop specific skills of the Employees.

The main Team Building objectives:

- Reward / Motivation
- Team development
- Communication improvement
- Integration
- Personnel testing/evaluation

"You can discover more about a person in one hour of playing than in a year of conversation."
